General marking principles for National 5 English: Critical Reading

This information is provided to help you understand the general principles you must apply when marking candidate responses to questions in this paper. These principles must be read in conjunction with the specific marking instructions for each question. The marking schemes are written to assist in determining the 'minimal acceptable answer' rather than listing every possible correct and incorrect answer.

- (a) Marks for each candidate response must always be assigned in line with these general marking principles and the detailed marking instructions for the relevant question.
- (b) Marking should always be positive. This means that, for each candidate response marks are accumulated for the demonstration of relevant skills, knowledge and understanding: they are not deducted from a maximum on the basis of errors or omissions.
- (c) If a specific candidate response does not seem to be covered by either the principles or detailed marking instructions, and you are uncertain how to assess it, you must seek guidance from your team leader.

The marking instructions indicate the essential idea that a candidate should provide for each answer.

Question	Expected response(s)	Max mark	Additional guidance
	Cassie is very bitter about her husband, Joe, who is in jail. She has relationships with men, seeing them as a way of escaping her life. But she is bitter about men, calling them ‘Lying hounds, every one of them.’ The only exception to this is her father, whom she idolised - she won’t accept the truth about him. Later in the play, Cassie confesses that she had a relationship with Marie’s husband, Michael: ‘Michael was a window. Just a bit of excitement you know? He was exciting, Michael... ‘Cassie had kept this hidden from Marie: ‘Well we both did! That’s what I’m telling you Marie! We were both lying to you for years!’ Cassie accepts and reveals the truth at the end of the play: ‘So. There you are. That’s the truth. Now you can tear the face off me.’		OR 1 x relevant reference to text (1) 1 x appropriate comment (1) (maximum of 2 marks only for discussion of extract) from at least one other text/part of the text: as above (x2) for up to 4 marks

Question	Expected response(s)	Max mark	Additional guidance
	Alec's grief at the start of the play for the loss of his mother and his subsequent interest in religion. His passion for this is shown through his attendance at Bible class, BB, Christian Endeavour etc. However, he loses interest in this once he realises that his interests are academic and not spiritual. Alec's changing relationship with his father. As a child they are close and he is proud of his dad's sailmaking skills and believes that his dad will fix the yacht (a symbol of their relationship). Increasingly Alec disapproves of his dad's drinking, gambling, lethargy, disorganisation, etc, which escalates to arguments. In the end there is a sort of acceptance and reconciliation, although Alec has decided to leave home for studying at university. Alec has been brought up in a traditional working class Glasgow (Govan) home but shows he is different (as contrasted by his cousin Ian) by not conforming to sectarian attitudes and seeking education/employment beyond traditional trade work. He is shown to struggle in some ways to discuss his home life with other students from school who are of a different social class.

Question	Expected response(s)	Max mark	Additional guidance
	Lucia is allowed to behave in a spoiled manner by Rosinella (eg refusing to take off her good dress/ swearing when they are trying to get her to speak English instead of Italian), and she will side with Lucia over Massimo if he attempts to discipline her. She makes threats about going 'back to Italy' and boasts about being able to cry on demand as a manipulation tactic. During Massimo's time away Rosinella relies on Lucia even more for company and tells her stories about when she got married to Massimo. She also needs Lucia to read for her and sends Lucia to the church to light candles for Massimo. Rosinella is shown to be very controlling regarding Lucia's social life and strongly disapproves of her relationship with Hughie, insisting that Lucia should marry an Italian, attempting to match her up with Silvio Palombo. She will not allow Lucia to attend Hughie's brother's wedding and tries to keep them apart. She threatens to sack Hughie to keep him away from Lucia. Lucia can be embarrassed by Rosinella's behaviour eg the way she speaks to Hughie, her bargaining in shops with assistants, and the way she gossips about other families (especially Hughie's). Rosinella is devastated when Lucia returns to Italy ('I could just as easily tear out my own heart.') She demands that Massimo sell up to move there (after previously refusing to even visit). In the end she takes Hughie to Italy to win Lucia so they can be reunited as a family in Scotland, thus showing she is willing to compromise her traditional/nationalist views to keep Lucia close by and make her happy.

Question	Expected response(s)	Max mark	Additional guidance
19.	Extract: Neil is the ‘elder of the brothers’ and takes responsibility for Calum urging him to be ‘Careful’ when gathering cones in the trees. He is in charge (‘Neil did not give the word to go down’) and they have a close relationship (‘they were together’). He is shown to be relatively poor eg has a ‘ragged sleeve’ and is living in a ‘hut’. Paradoxical position of being both ‘ghosts’ (suggesting invisibility) and also ‘heart of the wood’ (suggesting they are essential). He is resentful of the disparity between their situation and that of the ‘mansion’ which he views with ‘calm yet bitter intentness’ whilst ‘waiting for it to change’ showing he feels that the social inequalities are unfair. He is quiet (‘motionless and silent’) and often thinks deeply (‘trances’). He cannot always communicate his thoughts to Calum ‘He never said what he expected...’ (due to Calum’s lack of understanding). Elsewhere: Cares for his brother by looking after him in every way eg cooking, clothing, behaviour, defending him to others, etc. Is shown to have made many personal sacrifices to do this. Gets frustrated by Calum’s lack of understanding (eg discussion of heaven/their dead mother), and actions (eg setting rabbits free, kindness towards Runcie Campbell family). At times he is embarrassed by Calum’s actions, but also feels shame for this.	8	Candidates may choose to answer in bullet points in this final question or write a number of linked statements. Question	Expected response(s)	Max mark	Additional guidance
54.	Extract: This poem explores the experience of awkwardness of a mother and daughter who have just met after years of separation. The women struggle to come to terms with their feelings and there is ambiguity about whether or not the women will try to build a relationship going forward or simply put this meeting behind them and move on. The orchids are used as a symbol of how tenuous/fragile their relationship/meeting is. Gap Year This poem explores the experience of a mother whose son is away travelling. She has mixed feelings throughout - on one hand great pride in her son's achievements whilst also missing him dearly because of the geographical distance between them. She reminisces about the past. Lucozade This poem is also about a mother/daughter relationship but this relationship is more positive. The important experience is that the mother is in hospital and the daughter is worried about her health. The mother is open with her daughter and talks about her feelings in a frank manner. Chrysanthemums represent negative associations with both illness and death so therefore their rejection by the mother is a positive.	8	Candidates may choose to answer in bullet points in this final question, or write a number of linked statements. There is no requirement to write a 'mini essay'. Up to 2 marks can be achieved for identifying elements of commonality as requested in the question. A further 2 marks can be achieved for reference to the extract given. 4 additional marks can be awarded for similar references to at least one other text/part of the text by the writer. In practice this means: Identification of commonality (2) (eg: theme, central relationship, importance of setting, use of imagery, development in characterisation, use of personal experience, use of narrative style or any other key element...) from the extract: 1 x relevant reference to technique (1) 1 x appropriate comment (1) OR 1 x relevant reference to idea (1) 1 x appropriate comment (1) OR 1 x relevant reference to feature (1) 1 x appropriate comment (1) OR 1 x relevant reference to text (1) 1 x appropriate comment (1) (maximum of 2 marks only for discussion of extract)

Question	Expected response(s)	Max mark	Additional guidance
	My Grandmother's Houses This poem explores the experience of the speaker reminiscing about her childhood relationship with her grandmother and how her grandmother tried to encourage her to grow up with a strong sense of right and wrong. Kay also reflects on the social divide as her grandmother cleaned for a wealthier woman. Old Tongue This poem explores the experience of moving away from Scotland to England and having to adapt linguistically. There is a tone of nostalgia and regret in the speaker's experience. There is some exploration of the idea of identity remaining intrinsic which has a universal relevance. Whilst Leila Sleeps This poem explores the experience of a mother trying to protect her daughter from the authorities. She tries to flee from arrest/perhaps possible deportation but is arrested. The poem has a universal appeal and the first person narration makes the readers imagine themselves in this terrifying predicament.		from at least one other text/part of the text. as above (x2) for up to 4 marks

Critical Essay

If minimum standards have been achieved, then the supplementary marking grid will allow you to place the work on a scale of marks out of 20.

Once an essay has been judged to have met minimum standards, it does not have to meet all the suggestions for it to fall into a band of marks. More typically, there will be a spectrum of strengths and weaknesses which span bands.

Marking Principles for the Critical Essay are as follows:

- The essay should first be read to establish whether it achieves relevance and the standards for technical accuracy outlined in the supplementary marking grid.
- If minimum standards are not achieved, the maximum mark which can be awarded is 9.
- If minimum standards have been achieved, then the supplementary marking grid will allow you to place the work on a scale of marks out of 20.

Note: Using the supplementary marking grid:

Bands are not grades. The five bands are designed primarily to assist with placing each candidate response at an appropriate point on a continuum of achievement. Assumptions about final grades or association of final grades with particular bands should not be allowed to influence objective assessment.
